EMBARGO, REJECTION OR PROHIBITION	This insurance does not cover loss caused by embargo or by rejection, prohibition or detention by the government of the country of import or their agencies or departments, but does not exclude loss to the goods caused by risks insured hereunder and sustained prior to any such embargo, rejection, prohibition or detention.
C4. PROCESSING OF GOODS	<ol> <li>This insurance does not cover loss to the goods caused by:</li> <li>undertaking any normal production process where the damage is directly caused by the process. SANCTION LIMITATION AND EXCLUSION CLAUSE – THIS CLAUSE SHALL BE PARAMOUNT	No insurer shall be deemed to provide cover and no insurer shall be liable to pay any claim or provide any benefit hereunder to the extent that the provision of such cover, payment of such claim or provision of such benefit would expose that insurer to any sanction, prohibition or restriction under United Nations resolutions or the trade or economic sanctions, laws or regulations of the European Union, United Kingdom or United States of America.
PART D. CLAIMS
D1. CLAIMS PAYABLE	Claims are payable in New Zealand dollars, or other currencies as agreed with you . When claims are to be paid in an overseas currency the rate of exchange to be used is the bank selling rate set for the day that the claim is ready for settlement.
D2. CLAIMS PROCEDURE	<ul> <li>DUTY OF THE CLAIMANT It is the duty of you and your agents, in all cases, to take such measures as may be reasonable for the purpose of averting or minimising a loss and to ensure that all rights against Carriers, Bailees or other third parties are properly preserved and exercised. NOTIFICATION OF CLAIM As soon as you are aware of any loss that is likely to result in a claim under this insurance you or your agent must: <ol> <li>immediately notify us or the claims settling agent named on the marine insurance certificate or, if no agent is specified, the nearest Lloyd's Agent. It is highly probable they will want to engage the services of an independent surveyor to oversee the handling of the claim and guide you through the procedures; <li>lodge a preliminary claim (Pro-forma Claim) on the ship-owner, airline operator, road or rail carriers, port authorities and any other bailee associated with the transit. The preliminary claim needs to be just a general advice containing sufficient information to identify the goods and the nature of the loss.</li> </li></ol></li></ul>

TAKING DELIVERY

You or your agent must:

- 1. examine the goods closely and, in the event of any obvious loss, suitably note the delivery receipt;
- 2. if goods are missing, note the number of packages short on the delivery receipt;
- 3. not, under any circumstances, issue a clean receipt for obviously damaged or missing goods;
- 4. if the goods are packed in a full container (FCL), examine the exterior of the container and note any damage;
- 5. if the goods are packed in a full container (FCL), examine the seal affixed to the door and check that:
  - a. it is intact, and
  - b. it has the same number as recorded on original shipping documents.

Seals should be removed only by a responsible official and, in the event of loss, should be retained as evidence;

- 6. if the goods are perishable and the loss is caused by temperature irregularity, retain any temperature recording charts;
- if the loss is apparent on taking delivery, request, in writing, the attendance of the carrier or bailee at a joint inspection. If it is possible, do not unload or unpack the goods until a joint inspection has been carried out;
- 8. if the loss is not apparent from the external appearance of the goods, lodge a preliminary claim against all carriers and bailees within three days of delivery and request their attendance at a joint inspection.

AFTER DELIVERY

- If the loss has arisen from water damage and the goods were packed in a container, check for leaks. If it is not clear where water entered, identify the place by using a hose. Remember to water test rubber door seals if the water-damaged goods were stowed near the door end of the container. The location of a leak can sometimes be identified by standing in the container, closing the door and looking for spots of light.
- 2. Take photographs of the damage and, if container delivery is involved, endeavour to film the loss in situ. If a camera is not available, draw a sketch plan.
- 3. Retain all packing materials for independent inspection. In the event of the container being defective, if possible, do not return it until independent inspection has been carried out.
- 4. Take all reasonable measures to reduce the loss and safeguard the goods from further harm.
- 5. Maintain a record of any costs you incur in reducing or safeguarding the goods from further loss. Retain all invoices and vouchers associated with the loss.
- 6. Once all costs are known complete a valued claim against the carrier and any other bailee involved with the carriage. The claim should be based on actual loss suffered.
- 7. Assemble full documentation (refer below) on the claim and send to us or to the appointed independent surveyor.

DOCUMENTATION

Provision of full and complete documentation assists in decisions on claims and speeds up their processing.

To enable claims to be dealt with promptly, you or your servants or agents are advised to submit all documentation without delay, including as applicable:

- 1. original certificate or policy of insurance;
- original Bill of Lading, Airwaybill, consignment note or other contract of carriage. It is important to ensure that the document of carriage is an original or a copy containing all the conditions of transport (usually on the reverse);
- 3. supplier's invoice for the full shipment. If this does not specify the terms of sale this information should be separately provided;
- 4. shipping invoice together with the shipping specifications, weight dockets and packing lists;

- delivery dockets. This will include tally notes, delivery receipts and EWP notes ('Examined Without Prejudice' – this is a delivery docket issued by a ship-owner acknowledging that the goods have been examined and deficiencies found but is not admitting liability);
- 6. original or copy of any temperature recording chart;
- 7. invoices for repair and other costs incurred in remedying or preventing loss;
- 8. sale notes or auction receipts where damaged goods are sold;
- 9. copy of the preliminary (Pro-forma) claim and final, valued claim on the carrier or bailee and the responses received;
- 10. copy of the invitation to the carrier or bailees to attend a joint inspection of the goods and the response received;
- 11. copies of any other correspondence exchanged with the carrier or bailee.
